The Bowie State College is a State-operated educational institution of higher learning which prepares students for professions based on the liberal arts as well as for careers in teaching, business, and social service. It was originally established in 1867 as the Baltimore Normal School, a private institution. By Chapter 599, Acts of 1908, the State purchased it and moved it to its present location, at which time it became known as the State Teachers College at Bowie. The college adopted its present name on July 1, 1963. The college, additionally, offers a four-year teacher preparation course leading to the degrees of Bachelor of Science and Bachelor of Arts. Certain majors are also offered in the field of Liberal Arts. Students taking the full four-year course pay no tuition if they promise to teach in the public schools of Maryland upon graduation. The College is accredited by the Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, The National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education, and the Maryland State Department of Education. The enrollment for 1968-69 was 1,050.
